I've been following Davey Havok's work since '96 and I always enter my first encounter with any new work he releases with trepidation. Pop Kids was no different and after the first 40 pages I wanted to stop reading. We know his unique lexicon and way with words from his songs but it seemed his novel writing was way too verbose.

As a novelist, Davey Havok is: A stellar songwriter and performer. I found Pop Kids to be a bafflingly, objectively awful book. The proofing/editing appear nonexistent. The plot is not compelling. The characters are one-dimensional props, so undeveloped (and with names that changed so frequently) that I gave up trying to work out who was who.
